

REV. DR. JOEL HECK

CREATION IN THE NEW TESTAMENT

Professor of Theology – Concordia University – Austin, Texas

Since 1998, the Rev. Dr. Joel D. Heck has served Concordia University Texas as Professor of Theology. He teaches courses in Old Testament, New Testament, Reformation history, and the life and writings of C. S. Lewis. He has also served as a pastor, high school teacher, conference speaker, and as Vice President of Academic Services for Concordia. He holds the Doctor of Theology from Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, and he is the Executive Editor of Concordia University Press. He is the author or editor of thirteen books, most of them in the areas of evangelism and assimilation. His most recent research will lead to his fourteenth book on the atheism of C. S. Lewis, explaining why Lewis became an atheist and why he left atheism behind. To be released in January 2017, the book will be called From Atheism to Christianity: The Story of C. S. Lewis. Dr. Heck has written more than dozens of articles C. S. Lewis, various Old Testament topics, and evangelism, as well as a short book on the creation-evolution controversy, In the Beginning, God, released by Concordia Publishing House in 2011. He and his wife Cheryl have three grown children and live in north Austin.
